FOREWORD

We, the Class of 1963, present to you our version of "The Chieftain."

We hope that this book fulfills its double purpose in reviewing the joys, the sorrows, the fun, and the hard work of our four years and in preserving those memories through pictures.

If it does, we shall be content knowing that we have done the thing we were called upon to do.

Mr. Nichols instructs S. Schnell.

M. Hunt and C. Wulff wait in the lunch line.

J. Decker and R. Inslerman study in the library.

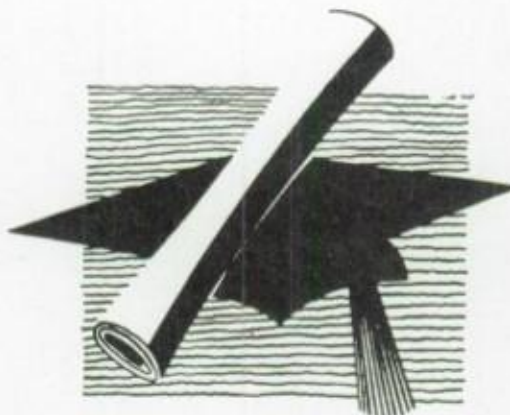

GRATITUDE IS THE MEMORY OF THE HEART.

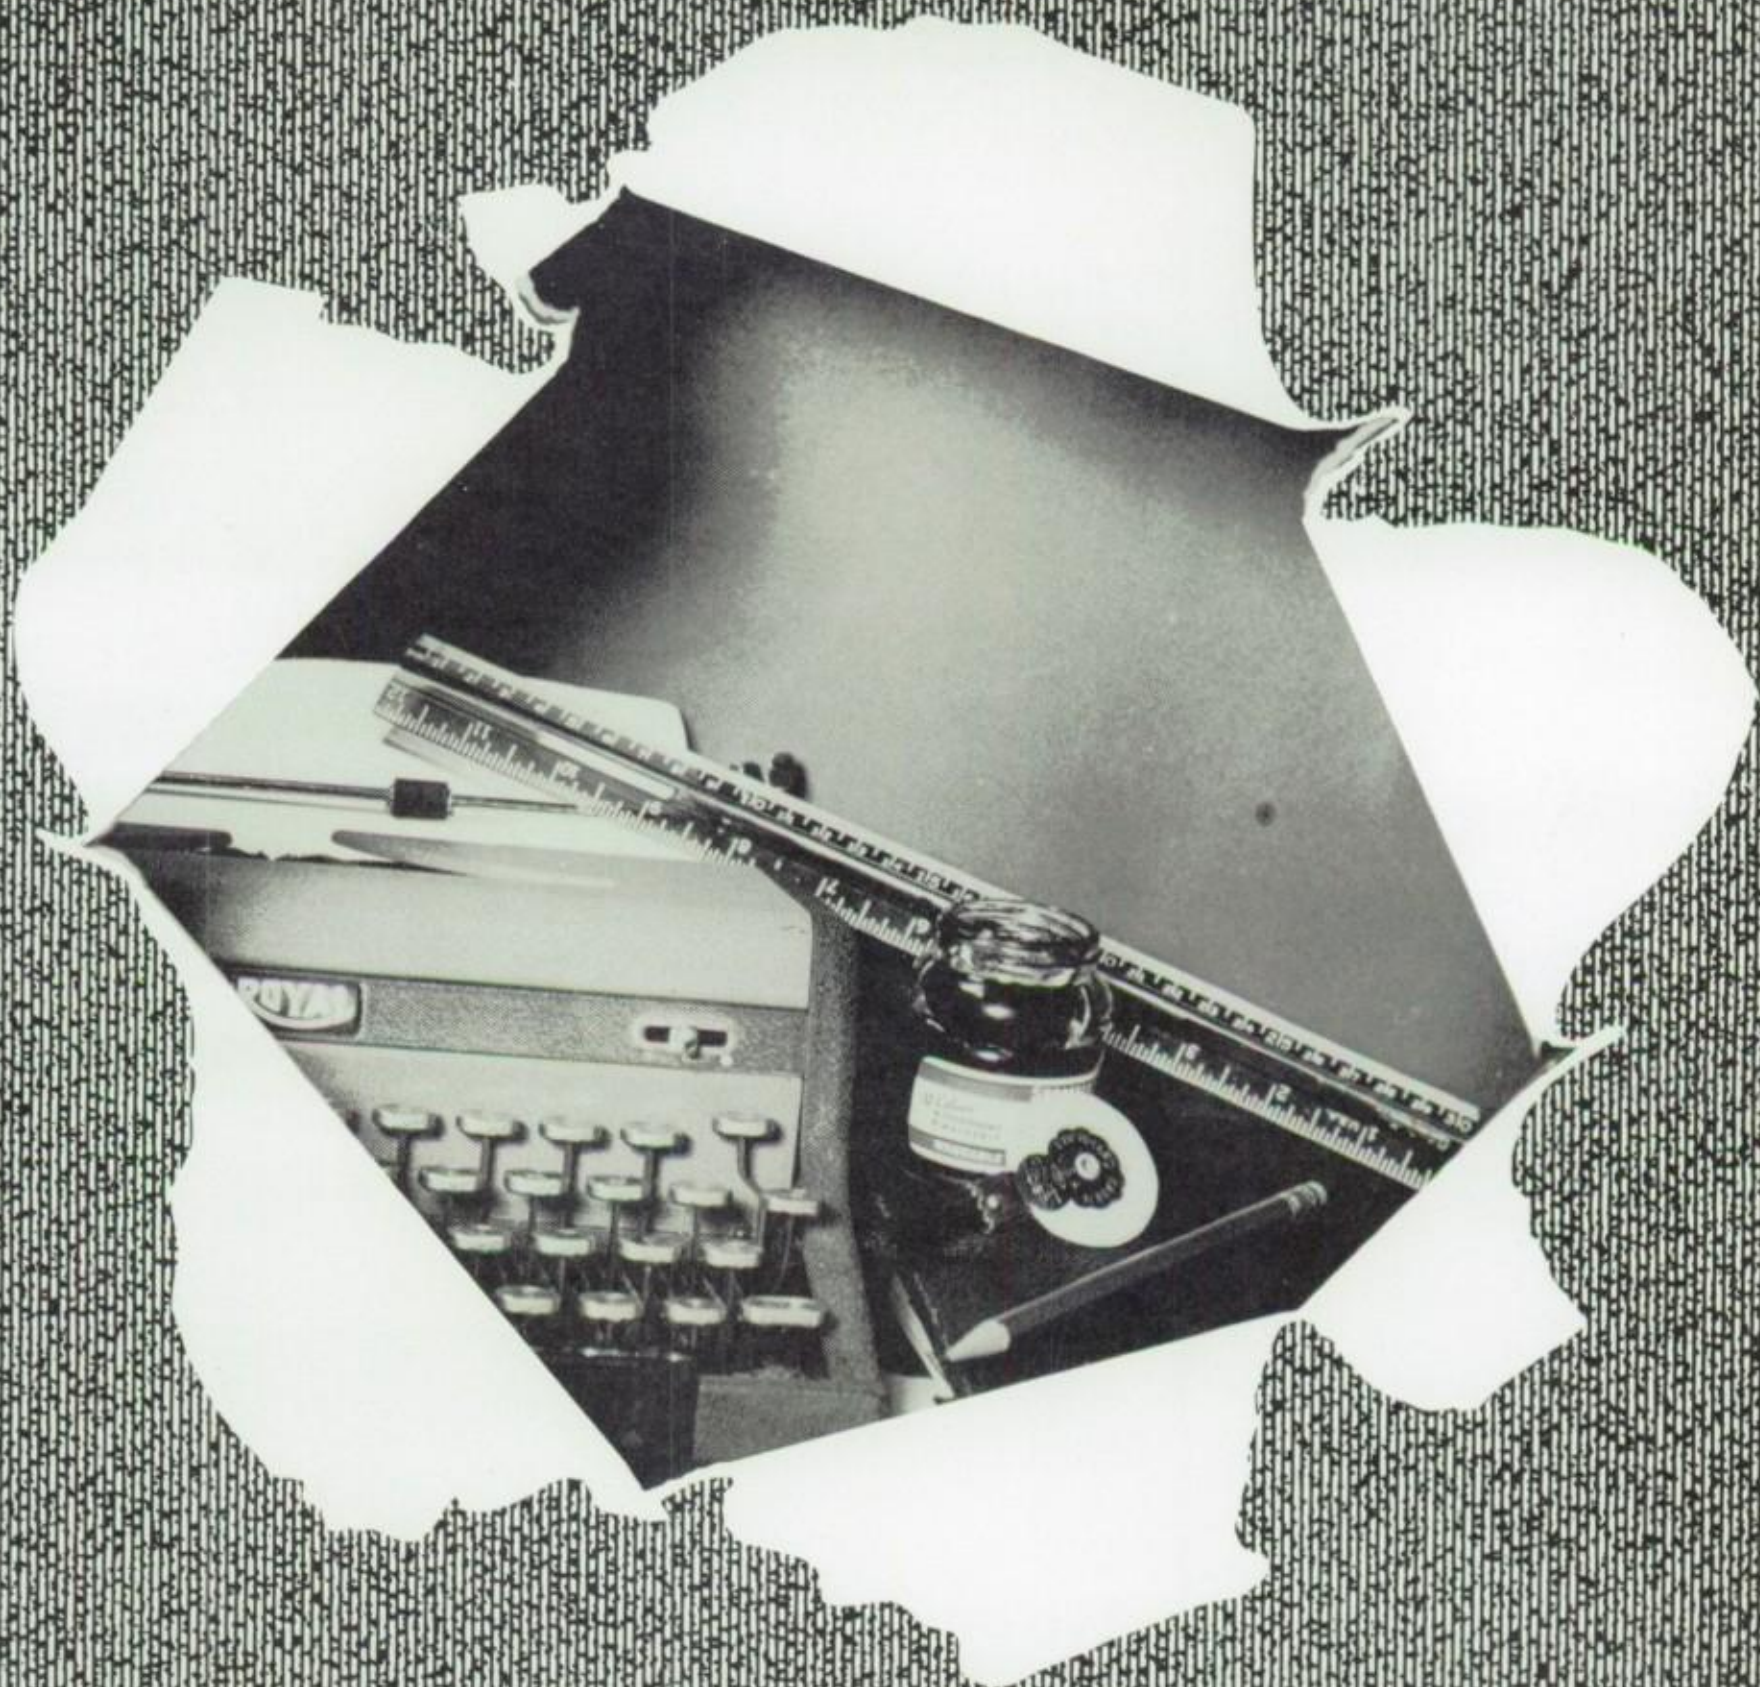

MASSIEU

On June 23 fifty-two seniors will receive their diplomas. We realize that our successes and accomplishments during these thirteen years have not come about through individual effort alone but through the guidance and love and also the challenge given to us by our parents and our teachers. In all our endeavors your kindness and direction have played an integral part. This too has been the case in our yearbook. We are proud of the pages that follow. We have been most fortunate.

As seniors we seem to consider many things that we have pushed aside before. Favors and kindnesses should not be taken for granted. And so we express our simple thanks to Mr. Dawson, the technical adviser to the yearbook for his assistance. To our principal and to our teachers, especially to our advisers Mrs. Thiessen and Mr. Bailey, we promise that our thanks will not be shallow and short-lived. As the fruition of your direction and efforts show themselves daily in our lives, our thoughts will always be with you and C. C. S.

But above all our appreciation and gratitude go to Miss Richards. Those on the staff of The Chieftain realize the great aid she has been to us. We are cognizant that our efforts would not have reached their fullness without her time, her ideas, and her efforts. Her dedication and pride in our class have contributed much in making this yearbook one of the finest.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

To the Class of 1963:

These last four years you have evidenced the pressures of this fast moving era in the form of more subjects to take, more homework to do, and harder tests to take. Graduating from high school is just the start towards a liberal education which essentially lists three kinds of objectives. These are knowledge of self and the world development of skills, and disciplined habits of the mind. To succeed in the world today, one must possess these three basic fundamentals.

Whether you go to college, join the service, or enter the working world, you will constantly be learning, applying your previous training and meeting new pressures. We at Cambridge Central School hope that you have a small start towards this liberal education and hope that you will continue to build on these fundamentals to insure you of success.

Good luck, God bless you. If you need help, please call on us. We're here to help you at anytime.

Part of the crowd.

The Town House hosted the 5th annual football banquet sponsored by the Holy Name Society. M.C. Bernard Morache introduced Richard Noonan, coach at St. Mary's Academy of Glens Falls, and speaker for the evening. The Jerome E. Wright trophy was awarded to Doug Dornan. Individual trophies were presented to the six senior members of the '62 football squad.

GRIDIRON HIGHLIGHTS

Football in 1962 was a season for experience and improvement. Our new coach James Reilly had only six seniors and a number of inexperienced juniors and sophomores to round out the team. Performing properly with a full team Cambridge won their first game against St. Peters, 7-0. After injuries cut deeply into our starting team, lack of depth in reserves made recovery impossible. Sparked on by the leadership of seniors Morse, Potvin, and Purdy, the team tried hard but just couldn't seem to come up with winning plays. The expectations for the 1963-1964 football season will be high with a good nucleus of lettermen returning.

THE ONES WHO ALMOST GOT AWAY

Joy missed out on no less than six group photos when she was absent as a result of an automobile accident just before New Year's. Her list of accomplishments as seen in the senior section show how active she has been. She worked hard on the yearbook planning board.

Mrs. Foster, Mrs. McMillan, Mrs. Craig, and Mrs. Squiers weren't available when our photographer snapped the cafeteria staff. Their hard work seeing that we are taken care of is appreciated.

Mrs. Perry didn't return to her first grade class after Christmas, but she was happy about leaving. She is the proud mother of a beautiful little daughter, born January 24, 1963.
